FIFTY AND FIFTEEN.

With gradual gleam the day is dawning,
Some lingering stars were seen,
When swung the garden gate behind us,—
He fifty, I fifteen.

The high topped chaise and old gray pony
Stood waiting in the lane;
Fifty my father waived the whip-lash,
Lightly he held the rein.

The stars went softly back to heaven,
The night fogs rolled away,
And rims of gold and crowns of crimson
Along the hill-tops lay.

That morn, the fields, they surely never
So fair an aspect wore,
And never from the purple clover.
Such perfume rose before.

O'er hills and low romantic valleys
And flowery by-roads through,
I sang my simplest songs, familiar,
That he might sing them too.

Our souls lay open to all pleasure,—
No shadow came between;
Two children, busy with their leisure,—
He fifty, I fifteen.

* * * * * * *

As on my couch in languor, lonely,
I weave beguiling rhyme,
Comes back with strangely sweet remembrance
That far removed time.

The slow-paced years have brought sad changes,
That morn and this between;
And now, on earth, my years are fifty,
And his, in heaven, fifteen.

—Atlantic Monthly.

A VALID DEFENCE.—Ralph Stackpole was one day arrainged before a country court in Kentucky, on a charge of horse-stealing, and matters went hard against him, his offences in that line having steeled the hearts of all against him, and the proof of his guilt, in this one particuar instance, being both strong and manifold. Many an angry and unpitying eye was bent upon the poor fellow, when his counsel rose to attempt a defence, which he did in the following terms:

"Gentlemen of the jury," said the man of law—"here is a man, old Captain Ralph Stackpole, indicted before you on the charge of stealin' a horse, and the affair is purty well proved on him."

Here there was a murmur heard throughout the Court, evincing much approbation of the counsel's frankness.

"Gentlemen of the jury," continued the orator, elevating his voice, "what I have to say in reply is, that the man thar, old Captain Ralph Stackpole, in the year seventeen seventy-nine, when this old State of Kentucky and particularly those parts adjacent to Bear's Grass, and to the mouth thereof, where now stands the town of Louisville, wur overrun with yelpin' Injun savages—did, I say, gentlemen, meet two injun savages in the woods on Bear's Grass, and tuk their scalps single-handed—a feat, gentlemen of the jury, that ain't to be performed every day in Kentucky, sure!" Here there was consiclerable tumult in the Court, and several persons began to swear.

"Secondly, gentlemen of the jury," exclaimed the attorney at law, with a louder voice—"what I have to say secondly, gentlemen of the jury, is that this same identical prisoner at the bar did, in the year seventeen eighty-two, meet another Injun savage in the woods—a savage armed with rifle, knife and tomahawk—and met him—what do you suppose, gentlemen—with gun, axe and scalper in like manner? No, gentlemen of the jury!—with his fists," and in a voice of thunder, "licked him to death in the natural way! Gentlemen of the jury, pass upon the prisoner—guilty or not guilty?"

The attorney resumed his seat; his argument was irresistible. The jurors started up in the box, and roared out to a man. "Not Guilty!"

"HE HAS NOT AN ENEMY IN THE WORLD."—Hasn't! Well, we are sorry for him, for he has mighty little character who has no enemies. He is nobody, who has not pluck enough to get an enemy. Give us rather, as our ideal of virtue and manliness, one who has many enemies—one who has candor and fearless love for the thing he sees to be right. The man of earnest purposes, strong will, and love of principle, for its own sake, must have enemies. But this so far from being ill, is to him good. The strong tree is more deeply rooted and fastened in the soil, by the blast, than the summer breeze. A man never knows how much there is of him until he has confronted and braved opposition.

Battle of the Four Lakes.

A letter dated Camp of the Four Lakes, Washington Territory, Sept. 4th, describes a battle between the Indians and United States forces at Four Lakes:

"Col. Wright's command left Snake River on the 28th ult., and, marching at the rate of twenty miles aday, over barren, hot and dusty wastes—the scraggiest, God-forsaken region I have ever seen—we reached here on the 31st. As we reached this camp the country looked somewhat habitable, and our enemies, the Indians, made their appearance. They dogged us in our camp, and in our last day's march, and we were compelled to run them occasionally.

On the 1st inst., as we learned afterwards, with a large force, they had arrange l an ambush along a defile which opened into a plain, on the trail to their villages, and the one which we were marching. On this morning, at an early hour, we observed the enemy's advance upon the summit of a high hill, not far from our camp. Some of the bold rascals advanced down the hill towards us, and with a loud whoop dared us to come out and fight. We had left our sweet homes and loved ones in California, and had borne the many long, dreary, and fatiguing marches, sustained by the hope that the time would soon come when we should have an opportunity to teach the scamps a lesson, and now the long wished for moment had arrived. Our gallant Colonel, as soon as he had finished breakfast, disposed of us in two columns, one of Dragoons, and one of foot, numbering in all about 320, of which number about 100 were mounted. This force advanced towards the hill, upon which were about 40 or 50 of the enemy. The ball was opened by the gallant Capt. Ord, with his company of artillery, and Lieut. Davidson of the dragoons. They charged from opposite sides upon the enemy on the hill, who were speedily dispersed. Lieut. Davidson and his men behaved most admirably; and Capt. Ord managed his company in his usual brilliant manner. The main body of the enemy were off some distance under cover of some pine timber, skirting two lakes to the northwest of and at the foot of the hill, and to the gulches and ravines at its base. As soon as we had reached the top of this hill, we had a fine view of the whole ground, and of the enemy in possession. There were some 400 to 500 of them on a rolling plain to the northwest, back of the gorge between the lakes and in the pine skirting them. Those on the plain covered some two miles broad, and half-a-mile deep; they were flying around on their fleet ponies, thick and lively like the contents of half-a-dozen ant-hills suddenly invaded. The dragoons had followed the Indian advance down the hill, and were skirmishing there, and awaiting the arrival of the foot. As soon as Col. Wright saw the ground, he ordered the foot to deploy in line and move down the hill and attack; and when the proper time came, as the enemy started, the dragoons were to charge. It was as pretty a view of a fight on almost upon ground, as I expected to have. The Artillery and Infantry now pushed ahead, except Capt. Ord's company, which was ordered by Col. Wright to remain in the train on the hill. The Indians were all mounted on fleet, fresh horses, so they kept the dragoons busy, whose horses were just from a long journey, till the line of foot (composed of 3rd Artillery under the gallant Capt. Keyes, and the 9th Infantry under Dent,) got down the hill, and passed the dragoons. Then they let the Indians have their long range Minnies. These soon told; first, a few, then several reeled and fell, and then they began to break and fly. Now came the long looked for word to the dragoons—Charge! from Major Grier; and such a race! Away went the frightened Indians from pines and glens, and open plain, streaking it up a long range of hill a mile or two to the northeast. On the top of this they made a short stand, for the dragoon horses were blown, and could only overtake a few.—The foot formed a line again, and alone up the face of that long hill, with a howitzer. Now they gave them a few shots, and without waiting for good range, the Indians fled, singly and in detachments.—For mi'es they could be seen galloping for dear life. At this juncture a small body of the Nez Perces, who had joined us at Snake River, were after them. These allies of ours, I guess, from what I hear, brought back some scalps. But apart from that, when our begrimed and sweaty fellows marched down that long hill to form column and go into camp, and we had a chance to compare notes, we found that about 35 or 40 of the enemy had been wounded, and 17 killed—a pretty good four hours' work. I believe it has destroyed any prestige these fellows may think they gained by driving in Steptoe's small party. Col. Wright intends to keep the ball moving. His coolness, skill and bravery in the management of his command, are deserving of all praise. He and his gallant officers, Grier, Ord, Keyes, and others d serve brevets. Col. Wright's command is the first one armed with Sharpe's and Minnie's guns. Witness the result: we have killed and wounded more than 47 of the enemy, and not one of us hurt. I tell you the Indians were astonished when our fellows perched them off at four and five hundred yards. They won't let a single man now approach near er than half a-mile."

☞"Speaking of Governor Stewart, of Missouri, getting drunk and getting beaten in a groggery, the Washington Republic is reminded of a story:

The deacon of a church, upon whom a new pastor had been settled, was praising his many qualities to the deacon of a neighboring church. He declared that their new minister had but one fault in the world, and that was, a propensity to become a little quarrelsome when drunk.

Taking Greens with Liquor.

A traveler from Virginia, as his blooded horse, plethoric saddle bags and haughty insouciance indicated, stopped at a comfortable wayside inn, in Kentucky, one night, many years ago. The landlord was a jovial, whole-souled fellow, as landlords were in those days, and gave the stranger the best entertainment his table and bar would afford, as well as his own merry company, to make him glad. Early in the morning, the stranger was up and looking around, when he espied a rich bed of mint in the garden. He straight-way sought boniface, and indignant at what he supposed his inhospitality in setting plain whiskey before him, when the means of brewing nectur was so easy of access, he dragged him forth to the spot, and pointing with his finger at the mint, he exclaimed:

"I say, landlord, will you be good enough to say what that is?"

"A bed of mint," said the somewhat astonished landlord.

"And will you please tell me what is the use of it?"

"Well, don't exactly know 'cept the old woman dries it sometimes with the other yarbs."

The Virginian almost turned pale at the enormity of this assertion.

"And do you mean to tell me that you don't know what a mint julip is?"

"No, 'cept its, something like sage tea, stranger."

The landlord obeyed, and the stranger soon made his appearance with a handful of fragment, dewy mint, and then they brewed and drank, and brewed and drank again; breakfast was over, and the stranger's horse was brought out only to be ordered back. Through the livelong day they brewed and drank; one or two neighbors dropped in, who were partakers, and late in the night their orgies kept up; ere they made it bed time, the landlord and his Virginia guest, who had initiated him into the pleasent mysteries of mint julips, were sworn brothers, and when the latter departed the next morning, boniface exacted a pledge that he would stop on his return, and stay as long as he pleased, free of cost.

The stranger's business, however, detained him longer than he expected, and it was the next summer before he came back. Riding up late in the evening, he gave his horse to an old negro who was at the gate, and at the same time inquired:

"Well, Sam, how is your master?"

"Yonder him come," said the negro, pointing to a youth who was approaching.

"I mean your old master, fool!"

"Ole massa! him done dead dis tree months."

'Dead! What was the matter with him? He was in fine health when I left him."

"Yes; but you see, Mass' Stranger, one of 'em Virginia gemme n cum 'long here last year, and showed him how to eat greens in his liquor; he like it so well, he done stuck to it till it kill him," said the old darkey, shaking his head.

The stranger passed a less jovial night than on his previous visit, and was off by daybreak next morning. He quieted his conscience, however, in the end, with the reflection that "good things are sometimes misused."

☞"THE first blood shed in defence of liberty and in opposing English oppression was in the South. The State of North Carolina—the "old North State," and twin-sister of South Carolina—is entitled to the honor. It was during the gubernatorial administration of the notorious Governor Tryon, the English Governor at the time, who built one of the most splendid palaces in either North or South America, at Newburn, N. C., with the proceeds of taxes imposed upon the people for the purpose, and to resist which taxation a portion of them rebelled, just as did the men of Massachusetts afterwards. It took place in the year 1771, and is narrated by Mr. Wheeler in his history of North Carolina—On the 16th of May, in that year, a battle was fought between the American and British forces, on the banks of the Almance river, in what is known now as the county of that name called the Battle of the Almance. The American forces were called the "regulators," from their efforts in endeavoring to bring about an equitable regulation of taxes and other oppressive matters. The American forces amounted to two thousand, and were headed by three men named Husband, Hunter and Butler; while the British forces, including militia called out by Tyron, amounted to upwards of eleven hundred, but had the advantage greatly in arms and discipline. As might have been expected, the Americans were defeated, after an action of two hours, with a loss of twenty dead and sever l wounded, while that of the royal forces, in killed, wounded and missing was sixty-one. Mr. Wheeler says:

"Thus ended the battle of Almance.—Thus and here was the first blood spilled in the United States in resistance to exactions of English rulers and oppressions by the English government. The Great Wolf of South Carolina showed his bloodthirsty temper by acts of revenge, cruelty and barbarity. He hung Captain Tew the next day, without trial, on a tree."

It was in this case, as Byron truly says in one of his poems—

"For Freedom's battle ONCE BEGUN,
Bequeathed from bleeding sire to son,
Though sometimes is lost, is ever won."

Thus we see that it was at the battle of Almance and not at Bunker Hill, that the first Americam blood was shed in the cause of liberty. "Honor to whom honor is due."

☞Talleyrand, talking of a man who dealt in nothing but quotations, said, "that fellow has a mind of inverted commas."

☞The difference in time between the European and American ends of the Atlantic Telegraph wire, is about two hours and forty-eight minutes.

.....The District Court for Stanislaus Co., was held last week. In the case of Morley vs. Myers, et als, plaintiff had judgment. Summers vs. Dickinson, continued.

.....Deputy Marshal SANBORN, of Stockton, took a prisoner by the name of KEELER, from this place, on Friday, to be tried in Stockton on a charge of horse stealing.

.....Snow fell in abundance on the main ridge of the Sierras, Thursday and Friday. It extends down as far as Yo Semite Valley. Sufficient rain fell in this place to lay the dust effectually.

.....The people of Visalia and vicinity, are informed that Dr. HAMILTON, a dentist of superior skill, will be in that place the latter part of this week.—Those needing the services of a dentist, are cordially recommended to him.

.....GEO. W. COULTER, Esq., of Coulterville, has been to San Francisco. The papers puffed him—called him a good Democrat—(that's a fact)—called him good looking—(that's a lie)—called him rich—(that's another) &c.

.....A man by the name of KENNY, who resided on the Stanislaus River, was last week so badly injured by a grizzly, which he had wounded and followed into the thicket, that he cannot possibly recover. Two of his ribs were torn out, and one arm and one leg badly crushed.

.....Quite a number of persons started last week for Walker's River, from Mariposa. LEE VINING'S report was favorable. Being a good miner and having been there, his statements are to be relied upon. He started back with seven hired men and provisions for two months. Some 12 or 15 others left.

.....Mr. J. W. SIMMONS, our former popular School Teacher, will open a Private School in Mariposa on Monday next, October 25th. We think it useless to make any remarks respecting the necessity of educating the young, suffice it to say that we all are aware of the importance of education, and we hope that Mr. S.'s school may flourish.

.....The miners on the Upper Agua Frio, have improved their time during the past summer by throwing up dirt, in anticipation of a rainy winter. One company, we are told, KAUFFMAN, PARKER & CARR, have dug and hauled three thousand five hundred cart loads of dirt, which will pay from one dollar to one dollar and a half per load. There are other parties who expect to do equally as well in the event of a wet winter.

.....Specimens of Quartz have been handed us by Thos. EARLY, Esq. They were from his vein on the head of Sweet Water. The vein in the average is rich and extensive. Arastras have been used in reduction the past summer. Until spring, the vein will not be worked, as the weather is getting too cold up there. A quartz region, similar to that of Gentry's Gulch across the Merced; is likely to be developed at the place mentioned. TOM deserves to make a million, and we hope he will.

.....The lack of editorial matter in this number is attributable to several causes. 1st, The Turkey shooting. 2d, To turkey eating. 3d, To the employing of an amenuensis; our right hand being injured in an attempt to eject the Thomas Cat of this establishment out of the editorial bed (?). Aforesaid Thomas having been out to a sewing society until an improper hour, we deemed it proper to put him out. Said Thomas used his teeth and claws unjustifiably. Thomas finally staid in bed, but it is to be hoped that a female spouse, properly selected, will take his place ere long. Bite 'em.

.....The Turkey Shoot on Saturday, at Mormon Bar, was a decided success—to the owners of the Turkeys. The day was bad, the wind was blowing in fitful gusts—the ground was not especially favorable, and the distance was quite that of ordinary shooting. Turkeys brought a large price each. .....A correspondent writes from Phillips Flat that Miners there are doing well....Those in the river previous to the recent rise, were getting excellent pay....The river rose about two feet and some damage was occasioned, but the miners were busily engaged in repairing their works....The river pays better this year than ever before....Our correspondent desires us to give the store keepers on the river a rake for selling goods at too large a profit. He is probably correct in his view of the subject, they deserve a rake—is pleased with the GAZETTE—is going to get subscribers....A man, delirious under the influence of liquor, ran into the river, just above the Flat, and was drowned. His remains were found and interred on the 10th instant. His name was ascertained to be MCGINNIS, well known about Indian Gulch. He is represented to have been a man of excellent qualities, but his bane was liquor, and he went the way that hundreds of Californians have gone and hundreds more will go. Write weekly, Mr. Correspondent.

UPSET.—The stage of Messrs. A. N. Fisher & Co. on its way to Bear Valley, from this place, Wednesday morning last, upset when a short distance from town. The morning was very dark, so much so that it was impossible to see the road, without the aid of lanterns, which for some reason were not used at the time, and a certain stupp thrusting itself in the way in a very unbecoming manner it upset the stage.—No one was to blame (?)—two passengers, women, were injured, but fortunately not very seriously.—Hornitas Democrat.

As we conceive the above does an injustice, though perhaps unintentional, to one of the most steady and accomplished drivers, Mr. SNEDIKER, that has ever driven a stage from this town or from anywhere else. Mr. S. has been upon the road between Mariposa and Hornitos for a long time, and never before has an accident occurred, and the route mentioned is well enough known to be a very difficult one. The facts are, that on the morning of the accident, the lanterns of the Mariposa stage were taken to replace those of the Stockton stage, which had been broken, and the accident in consequence happened. While we would not screen from culpability, we would not attach blame unless deserved; and the editor of the Democrat should know by this time, that when SNEDIKER turns his stage over, or other misfortune befalls it, it is an accident against which unusual prudence and care does not guard.

.....Very heavy stocks are being laid in by our merchants. Thirty thousand dollars worth of goods, exclusive of freight, have been received within the past fortnight, by SULLIVAN & CASHMAN. MCDERMOTT & Co. have their new fire-proof Store nearly finished, which, when done, will be filled with all sorts of human subsistence, including drinkables, raiment, and tools for the laboring men—sovereigns of this region.

.....A liquor seller went to the Camp-Meeting in Merced County, and commenced disposing of stone fence, Minie Rifle, and other kinds of liquid compounds. A Deputy Sheriff was started after him, and after considerable hunting found him and his clerk in front of the altar in earnest prayer, repentant and anxious. They were not arrested.

.....AVIEL FUANTES, who killed his wife on the Merced River in June last, was tried at the last term of the District Court, and found guilty of murder in the first degree, and was sentenced to be hung on the 12th of November next. We understand, however, that he manifests symptoms of insanity, which we hope will be investigated before the time arrives for his execution.

.....We are under obligations to Mr. JOHN W. TUCKER, of San Francisco, for a piece of the Atlantic Telegraph Cable, which we much prize. Mr. T. keeps the largest assortment of Watches and Jewelry upon the Pacific coast, and those wishing to purchase a good article in the above line, not less than cost, but at a moderate and fair profit, should call upon or send to TUCKER, by whom they can be suited, if they are disposed to be. See advertisement.

☞Continual complaints are reaching us of the non-receipt of papers. The following is the latest:

MERCED FALLS, Oct. 9, 1858.

MR. L. A. HOLMES:

Dear Sir:—As there is no possibility of my receiving your paper, I think that you had better discontinue it.

The mail arrangements are no ways regular. When I do receive it, it is only like angel's visits, and are from two to four weeks old, sometimes six.

Respectfully Yours,
ADAM YATES.

Why is this? We assure all our subscribers that their papers are forwarded in the most expeditious way possible, and that the blame is not ours. It would be very gratifying to know who is to blame. We'd give the delinquent a live long and lasting reputation for post-office capacity.

.....One of our compositors imagining that no one but ministers could transact business in the marrying line, dubbed our friend Judge MCGEHEE, of Big Oak Flat, Rev., in the record of his having made two couples one flesh, in that place recently. The Judge is as good as a Reverend, we expect. He has a solemn air, but we would as soon think of calling Dr. WILLIAMSON, of the same place, (a friend of publicans and sinners,) Reverend Doctor, as to attach the same handle to the Judge's cognomen.

.....We are under a good many obligations this week for favors to sundry and divers individuals, some of them mean as the devil, too. We'll mention those most prominent in our recollection.... First—Thanks to the man who didn't lick us on sight, as threatened—we congratulate you, old hoss.... Second—To the man on the Chouchilla, who paid a bill we never expected to get....Third—To A. W. JR., for one dollar and a half borrowed at the Turkey Shoot, which he need'nt expect to receive....Fourth—To Col. SAM MERRITT, for almost a new hat, of the stove pipe species, which we cannot wear half an hour at a time, on account of dizz'ness, the distinguished Col. having splurged about in San Francisco under it....Fifth—To BOB MILLER, County Recorder, &c., for a Turkey Dinner; though we don't feel very much obligated in this instance. The Turkey we eat didn't roost well, gobbled and picked gravel all night after...Sixth—(In a horn,) to some of the Press of this State, who steal from the GAZETTE, and others who credit to "Mariposa Paper."....Seventh—For an invitation to attend a school examination at Skelton's Ranch, some 12 miles from this place farther in the mountains. Four years ago we encamped on a hunt with old man MORRISSON, of Sherlock's, yclept the bear hunter, under a large oak, within 100 yards of the place where is now the school house. It was a solitude. No sound was heard save the reverberation of the rifle of some hunter; the nightly cry of the coyote, and the long drawn scream of the California Lion. One evening, returning from the chase, we found a grizzly as large as an ox, in camp. His bearship had eat up a fine buck, which he had to climb the tree to get, and was into the sugar. He discovered us first, and ran, or else we should. Now, this locality is included in a fine Ranch. About it, in the same region, are cultivated vales, and the hum of busy life is heard. A School, and a flourishing one, too, is upon the spot. Four years ago we did not dream of the change. We did not "hear the sound of those advancing footsteps which are soon to fill these wilds."

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

The yearly conference of the Methodist Church South, commenced in Stockton, Wednesday morning last. Most of the clergy belonging to that branch of the Methodist church in this State, are present.—Nine clergymen were admitted into the conference on the first day, after the usual examination. The mornings of each day are devoted to business, the afternoons to religious exercises. A Stockton paper announced that the Rev. Dr. SCOTT was to preach before the conference on Saturday evening, which seems singular, as the Doctor is an Old School Presbyterian, and was president of their assembly in New Orleans, in May last. Perhaps the asperities of different denominations are softening and their animosities are being forgotten. The day is to be hailed as a happy one when such is the case. It would appear better, however, in the eyes of the ungodly, and probably in the eyes of the Almighty, for the two branches of the Methodist church to heal their differences and become again united, before forming an alliance or associating with Old School Presbyterians who, if they love Methodism, it is a fact not usually known and of very recent date. The schism between the two branches of the Methodist Church North and South, is disgraceful. It would be so in a political party and much more so in the church.

RAPE CASE IN SACRAMENTO.—The Sacramento Union says: "Martha Poorman, aged about eighteen years, who is residing with her uncle in the upper part of the city, on the 1st instant, entered a complaint before Justice Henley, charging Israel Luce with an assault, with intent to commit rape, on her person, on the night of the 30th September, at her residence. It was alleged in the complaint, or affidavit, that the defendant entered her room, removed the bed clothing, got into bed, and attempted the act complained of as above. The case was examined yesterday, before Justice Barr. The prosecuting witness testified that she was acquainted with defendant, and although she had not seen him for a year or more, and could not see his features on the night in question, she knew that he was the person who assaulted her, by his voice, having spoken four times. Immediately on awaking, she cried out, whereupon he said, in a trembling voice, "stop," "stop," and left the room. She then got out upon the balcony, jumped to the ground, and went to a neighbor's for assistance. The defendant alleges that he was at home at the time (12½ o'clock at night), but unfortunately cannot introduce his wife as a witness—the only one who can prove the fact. The case was dismissed.

EMIGRATION TO CALIFORNIA.—The Washington correspondent of the Bulletin thinks the emigration to California next Spring must be large. He writes: "I have always been skeptical as to these large emigrations we hear of every Spring; but from all I see and hear, both on this side and in England, I am constrained to believe that the exodus from this side to the Pacific shores next year, will be immense. Everything looks and tends that way. I have traveled much in the West since April, and wherever I have been California and the Pacific shores was the theme. You can form no idea how utterly flat and prostrate every branch of business is in that region. Laborers are glad to work at 50 cents a day, but cannot get even that. There has been no lifting up at all of this terrible pressure since the great crash. An immense emigration moved into that country during the continuance of the "bubble," and now that it has burst, they are left without employment; and but for the Utah troubles they would have poured into California this year like locusts. Next Spring look out for them."

.....A line of Station Stores are to be established on the Mail Route from Kansas to Salt Lake City, for the purpose of furnishing emigrants and travelers over the plains. A St. Louis firm is at the head of the enterprise.

STATE ITEMS.

.....A duel came off at Jamestown, on Thursday morning last, about 11 o'clock, says the Columbia Courier, between two men named Leonard and Anderson. It appears that the parties had quarreled, and agreed to fight it out with six-shooters. Seconds were selected, and the parties put in shooting order. At the first round Leonard's pistol hung fire. They were again stationed, and on the word being given, Leonard's pistol served him the same as before. Leonard then threw the pistol at his opponent, but missed him, and struck his second on the leg. Both parties then drew their knives and rushed in, but were prevented from doing each other damage, by interference of the spectators. It appears that the pistols were loaded with blank cartridges by the seconds, although the principals were not aware of the fact until it was all over. When they discovered the trick, they became much enraged, and manifested a more killing disposition, if possible, than before.—The affair, however, was afterwards arranged to the satisfaction of all parties.

.....A company of Germans, says a New York German paper, is being formed on the Rhine and Moselle Rivers, for the purpose of settling on Col. FREMONT's Mariposa Grant. It is to consist of 1000 persons—shares $1000 each. One third is to be laid out in land, another third is to be spent for buildings and tools. Institutions, such as schools, manufacturing establishments, are provided for in the plan of the Association. If the project is agriculture instead of mining, they are coming to a poor place, this "Fremont's Grant." It is hardly probable there is any truth in the report, though it is given as published.

.....The price of passage on the Overland Route via Salt Lake, has been fixed at $200. Each passenger is allowed 50lbs of baggage, and is to subsist himself. The price on the Southern Overland Route, via Visalia, Tejon Pass, and Fort Yuma, is fixed at $100, one-half as much. The other conditions of passage being the same as on the Northern route.

.....An attempt was made to rob the Stage of A. N. FISHER & Co., running from Stockton to Sonora, on Wednesday morning. Two men stopped the Stage at a watering place. One of them was knocked down by the driver, Mr. OLIVER, with an iron bolt, and the other fled.

.....A. R. MELONEY, elected at the last election Controller, entered upon the duties of his office on Friday of last week, after giving satisfactory bonds to the amount of $50,000, as required by law.

.....A live toad was recently found up north by some miners, 100 feet under ground, imbedded in hard clay. On being let out of prison his toad ship manifested considerable activity.

.....Celebrations are occurring in various places, on the arrival of the first mail from the Atlantic States, overland.

.....Large amounts of fruit is being brought to San Francisco from the Southern country.

.....The Alta of the 13th, states that within the last 48 hours, 480 passengers arrived at San Francisco from Frazer River.

.....A large fleet of Clipper Ships, numbering over 20, are now due at San Francisco.

.....There is soon to be a Steam Fire Engine introduced into San Francisco by the Monumental Fire Company of that city.

.....The publication of the Monitor, a Roman Catholic journal in San Francisco, is to be resumed.

THE OFFICIAL VOTE.

Below will be found the official vote of the State on the 1st day of September, as published in the Sacramento Union. In addition we will remark that the Secretary of State declined canvassing the returns for members of Congress or Clerk of the Supreme Court, as the vote is considered illegal and superfluous. As far as can be gathered, the following has been cast: Members of Congress—McKibben, 31,853; Dudley, 22,910; Tracy, 9,293. For Clerk of Supreme Court—Jennings, 27,221.

FREMONT vs. CRIPPEN.

The Supreme Court on Friday rendered a decision in the case of FREMONT vs. CRIPPEN. We take the following synopsis from the San Francisco Herald:

"This was an application made for a rehearing; one of the grounds being that the defendant had no opportunity to be heard before the decision of the Court was rendered. In the record there was a stipulation signed by the attorneys of record, for both parties, agreeing that "the cause be submitted for decision to the Supreme Court on written argument within ten days from the date, and that if either party fails to file said argument within said time that the Court may proceed to decide the case immediately on the record and brief of either party that may be then on file. The Court say that if the appellant has not been fully heard the fault lies with himself, as he had fourteen days between the dates of the stipulation and the decision of the case in which to file a brief or to apply for extension of time. The only point made in the petition, which was decided in the opinion, is that plaintiff's remedy was by action on the Sheriff's bond and not by mandamus. This objection is not well taken. Re hearing denied."

THE DIFFERENCE.—A correspondent of the Albany Evening Journal, writing from some mountainous region, says that an old "guide" gave him the following sound explanation of the greater daring of girls in dangerous places than of men. We suspect there is a good deal of truth in it:

"A gal," says he, "when she gets into a ticklish place always expects there will be a fellow holding onto her, and she does it out of bravery (bravado.) But a man, when he makes a fool of himself in that way, knows that he has got to stand it himself."

☞THE general elections for members of Congress and State officers, in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, took place on Tuesday, the 12th inst.—The State elections in New York and Illinois will be held on the 1st proximo.

ATLANTIC NEWS BY THE OVERLAND MAIL.

The first mail from the Atlantic States by the Southern Overland Mail Route, arrived at San Francisco Oct. 10th. It came by the way of Jefferson City and Springfield, Mo., Fort Smith, Ark., Preston, T., El Paso and Tueson, Mexico, Los Angeles, Visalia, and San Jose.

Twenty four days were occupied on the route—the Stage having started from St. Louis, Sept. 16. The news are two weeks later. The following is its summary:

A gold excitement existed in the Western States. It having been discovered in the Rocky Mountains near Pike's Peak. The auriferous region is said to extend from the south fork of the Platte River to the head of the Missouri, embracing the Peak Mountains, and extending west as far as the Cocholona Pass, and south as far as New Mexico. The richest diggings discovered are on the Fontainequi River.—We take the following in regard to these mines from Mormon papers:

The country is wild, and unsettled in the main. It is possessed by the the Cheyennes and Camanches, who are at present at war with each other.

The soil in the gold region is of a redish color, mingled with an immense quantity of broken quartz. The gold is fine and thickly mixed with the soil. The samples brought into Leavenworth were pronounced by old Californians as equal to any found in that State, and worth from $17 to $20 per ounce. The samples attracted much attention.

At present there are from one to two hundred miners at work, all doing well. The only complaint was in regard to tools. All the streams that came from the mountains contains the precious ore, which grew more abundant as the mountains were neared. A man with proper tools for obtaining gold, could secure from ten to fifty dollars per day.

Some nine persons in charge of a drove of 600 cattle and about 30 mules and horses, on their way from Texas to California, were attacked at Leona Springs, between Fort Lancaster and Fort Davis, on the 11th inst., and four of them killed and scalped.

The Indians also attacked an ambulance with two men connected with the train. Among the valuables in the ambulance taken by them was $950.

A mail party from Memphis to El Paso, of 8 men, crossed at Pecos only a short time before, and had not yet arrived at Fort Davis—some six days after the passing of the Indians. Fears are entertained that they have been killed by the same party. This work has been carried on for the past 10 years, and of late is becoming very profitable to the Indians. One of the Americans killed by the Indians was named Merchant W. Huxford. He had several letters in his possession post marked, "College Hill Ohio." Another man killed was John Christie, from Ft. Clark. He has a family in Minnesota, and was intending soon to move them out to New Mexico.

The Secretary of the Interior has decided that preemptions to town sites on public lands, are to accrue to the benefit of actual settlers attracted thither by the course of business and trade. This is a smasher to speculators.

The President is paying special and personal attention to the expeditions against Paraguay and against the Oregon Indians. Gen. Harney is to command the force in Oregon and Washington Territories, which will consist of over three thousand men. Gen. Harney was to sail from New York, Sept. 20th, and is consequently expected on the next steamer.

Edward Tucker, the engineer, who may years ago, as will be remembered, ran a train of cars belonging to the New Haven Railroad Company through the drawbridge over Norwalk River, at Norwalk, Conn., which resulted so disastrously to human life, committed suicide in New York City, by opening the veins of one of his arms with a razor. He had not run a train of cars since the Norwalk calamity. It is presumed that poverty induced him to commit suicide.

It was expected in New York that the new Nicaragua Line between that city and San Francisco, would be in operation by the middle of October.

It is understood that Gov. Denver has resigned the Governorship of Kansas.

Senator Benjamin declines the mission to Spain.

The yellow fever was prevalent in New Orleans. The number of deaths from this disorder in one day, Sept. 15th, was 63.

The Custom House in Baltimore, had been burned! Loss $40,000.

A Powder Mill belonging to the Hazard Powder Company, Enfield, Ct., exploded Sept. 13th. Four men were killed.

The Atlantic Telegraph Cable had ceased to work. The cause is said to be the failure of the English instruments. M. DeSauty assures the Associated Press of New York that the difficulty is only of a temporary nature; that the cable had not parted, and that its insulation was perfect. Still, the worst is feared, and a preponderance of opinion seems to be that the line will not work.

The Democracy have carried New Haven, Ct., at a recent election—that city of learning, literature and abolitionism.

The acquisition of the Mexican State of Sonora, is a matter much discussed, and meets with universal favor in the Eastern States. It is in the serious contemplation of the Government. England, it is understood, acquiesces to the arrangement if she can come out even in money matters.

The yellow fever had made its appearance at the quarantine, Staten Island. Eighteen cases were reported. It is not strange that the people residing upon that island should desire to be rid of quarantine, hospitals, etc.

FROM THE SOUTH.

The steamer Senator arrived yesterday from San Diego, with dates as follows. San Diego Oct. 4, Los Angeles 9th, Santa Barbara 7th....A terrific gale visited San Diego and the whole southern coast on the 2d, and rain fell after a terrible blow. The cottage of J. Judson Ames, at San Diego, was totally demolished, and great damage done to houses and the local shipping. The yacht Maria at San Pedro was wrecked, and the wharf at the same place injured....The San Luis Indians have been prevented hanging three of their tribe....A destructive fire was raging in San Luis Obispo county, prior to the late rain; the grass in that portion of the county between Piedra Blanca and El Morro was entirely consumed; some forty or fifty head of cattle belonging to D. Jose Maria Muños were burned; several houses were destroyed and the occupants compelled to fly for their lives. It is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.....An affair of honor was to have taken place at San Luis Obispo before the departure of the steamer on Monday last, between Hon. Walter Murray, member elect of the Legislature, of that county, and Capt. D. P. Mallagh. The difficulty originated about matters connected with the late election. The duel was postponed until the return of Capt Mallagh from the lower country. We understand that one of the parties was unable to obtain a pistol, and the other a second—hence the postponment.

FRIGHTFUL SCENE AT THE YREKA THEATRE.—A telegraphic despatch to the Shasta Republican, dated Oct. 8th, says: "A frightful incident occurred last night at the Colton Theatre. The Alleghanians were performing in presence of a very large audience—most all the ladies of Yreka were present—when the Concert had fairly commenced, and at the close of a very popular song, the stamping of the audience, shaking the floor of the stage, caused one of the camphene lamps to upset, and while one or two persons were endeavoring to smother the flames another lamp was upset. About this time the crowd made a rush for the stairs—several persons seized the carpet of the stage, with which to smother the flames when most of the other lamps were upset. The flames now loomed up terrifically, and the screams of women and children were appalling. The jam at the stairway was suffocating; several of the ladies fainted, and it seemed that the whole stage was in a blaze. The terror and confusion that prevailed throughout the room at this instant cannot be comprehended only by those that have been placed in a like situation, some jumped down from the front balustrade, some twelve or fourteen feet, to the ground; others jumped down stairs over the heads of the men and women; some went head first. The only complaints we hear of so far are skinned shins, bruised heads and smashed corns. The fire was extinguished in a short time, and all went home minus the conclusion of the concert."

CLIPPERS.—The Grace Darling, 124 days from New York, and the Reporter, 132 day from Boston, arrived in San Francisco last week.

COULTERVILLE CORRESPONDENCE.

COULTERVILLE, October 16th, 1858.

Mr. Editor:—Since I had the honor of writing you last, some changes for the better have taken place in these parts. We have had some rain, but as yet not enough to any immediate good, but 'tis an earnest of what we may shortly hope for. The rain, though little here, must have been considerable in the mountains, as the rise of three feet in the Merced river proves. This occurred two weeks ago, and all the miners were driven from their river claims. But the river is again falling—hopes revived—and with the energy characteristic of Californians, the miners once more essayed to reclaim their claims, and were, up to yesterday, partially successful. We had another shower yesterday, with portentious clouds hanging eastward, leaving little doubt but that much water fell in that direction. Another rise in the river is reasonably to be expected, and if that conjecture proves correct, miners must make up their minds to abandon river mining for the season.

It has turned quite cool, and last night we had a nipping frost, therefore any rise in the waters is likely to be permanent. The loss to many of the river miners, will be irreparable this year. Only a few had gotten into their claims when the first rise came, and the approach of the present anticipated one, will prevent the repair of damages from the first.

As an offset to this gloomp picture, I state with pleasure, the good fortune of the miners on Horse Shoe Bend Flat. Rich diggings have been recently struck there, and the yield is represented as being better than ever before known on the Flat. This is a god send to a worthy set of the b'hoys. Some of them have anchored their hopes there these many days, and this smile of Fortune, is but a just reward for their faith and perseverence.

There has not been rain enough to supply water for the mills in this vicinity. They are still idle—at least Goodman & Hubbell are not running at all, and the French Mill is doing but little. No reports of the Gentry Gulch region have reached us recently. The Cherokee Mill is running half time. J. B. Martin & Co. have not completed their establishment yet.—The Brothers Scott have nearly finished their mill, and anticipate starting soon.

New quartz lodes are being discovered daily. One of remarkably fair prospects, has been discovered at the head of Solomon's Gulch. It prospects finely, and the owners are in extacies over their good luck.

Smith & Robertson's vein near Pino Blanco, is the richest vein now worked in this vicinity. Their ore will average $1000 per ton. 'Tis small, 'tis true, but a thousand dollars a week is not to be "sneezed at" these hard times. They only run one arastra. Getting the "golden egg" a week, they don't care to kill the goose to get it all at once. I think where there is a small good vein, to build a mill is killing the goose of the fable.

I promise to do better for you than heretofore.

Yours, &c. DENIZEN.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

☞The great event in the annals of pugilism, is fast approaching. To-morrow, (Wednesday) between the hours of 12 and 2, the contest for the championship of America, will be decided. Each party is sanguine of success, and every exertion is being made to have their favorites in first rate condition.

Heenan has been under the charge of Jas. Cusick, who accompanied him from California. Morrissey is being trained by Shepherd. The San Francisco Spirit of the Times, says that an event has turned up in connection with this match, which lends to it an additional interest. It appears that the celebrated Aaron Jones, of the London Prize Ring, and famous for several bitterly contested fights, has arrived in New York at the instance of Heenan, and immediately took charge of him in his training. Aaron Jones is undoubtedly, at this time, the best trainer that England can produce, and it is, therefore, certain that all the aid which human skill can confer on the Benicia Boy will be given to him in his preparation by this accomplished master of the pugilistic art. Morrissey is also in excellent hands, and his fine condition and indomitable courage will test all the skill and power which his more youthful antagonist can bring to bear. Poor Bill Hughes, who, it was reported, had been sent to take the Benicia Boy in charge, is dying of consumption; his clothes hang loosely on him, and he would have died on the voyage had he started to come out. His retiracy from active life has left Aaron Jones the unquestioned superior of any trainer in Great Britain. Jones is reported on all hands to be a remarkably well behaved man, and his character for reliability and good faith is above reproach. Jones was born in 1821, which makes him 37 years of age. He stands 5 feet 11 inches, and fights at 168 lbs. At his first debut in the prize ring, in 1849, he was beaten by Harry Orme in a terribly contested fight of forty rounds, which lasted two hours and forty-five minutes. He then beat Bob Wade, in 1850, in a battle of forty-three rounds, which lasted an hour. His last contests were with Tom Sayers, the first of which took place on January 5th, 1856, and lasted three hours, and was interupted by night coming on. At their next meeting, Sayers was victor. The presence of such a man in connection with the coming fight, will give it a great deal of additional interest.

"It seems that her Majesty, as well as Prince Albert, loves fast horses, and she never rides without her nags are on the quickest trot. Well, she heard of the speed of New York horses and somehow the story of the rapid movements of a pair of them in London reached the ears of the Prince and Queen.—They were both anxious to see their movements and try their speed, which being made known to the American owner, he forthwith challenged Prince Albert to test the mettle of his animals between London and Windsor. The Royal party were to have twenty minutes the start, and change of horses on the road, while the American trotters go through the entire distance. The affair was wholly private, and yet what was in the wind leaked out among the grooms, all was excitement.

"Having reached the half way house and road with fresh horses, again for a start, they all looked anxiously back to the American horses. The Queen and Prince Albert were as interested as if their crown was the issue; and remembering the yacht race where the "America" was victorious, by a wave of the hand to her postillions, Victoria urged them forward. But it did not avail. The American trotters were soon in sight, and it was but a few minutes before they were "neck to neck" with the Royal party. To their utter amazement, they soon passed them, as trotting horses are sometimes accustomed to do on the Bloomingdale road. When the Queen and Prince reached Windsor, the American horses were all nicely groomed, and ready, if need be, for another start. This exploit led to the purchase of some trotting animals, but have jeopardized the lives of the Royal party, they were wisely abandoned.—This is the postilion's story, and there is no cause to doubt its truth.

The Great Foot Race at Marysville.—The foot race between Forbes, of Sutter County, and "Soda Bill," of Nevada, which has been the topic of conversation in sporting circles for the past week or two, came off about sundown on Saturday, at Zabriskie's. Both men, says the Marysville Express, showed evidences of having been thoroughly trained, and looked as though nothing short of a streak of lightning could overtake either of them in a fair race. The crowd collected together to witness the sport was very large, and money freely bet. "Soda Bill" being the favorite until after both showed their muscle, when Forbes stock rose, and odds were offered on him. We never witnessed as much enthusiasm in a race of any kind as was exhibited at this. The Nevada boys came down "flush," and were confident of the success of their man. To use a sporting phrase, which we have a right to do in a sporting article, the Marysville boys "nipped" all that came in sight, and when no money could be seen or heard of, the judges were chosen, the track cleared, measured, and the racers brought on in their running clothes. They were each placed, and when the word was given they both dashed forward together at a speed perfectly fearful to witness.

But a few bounds had been made, when Forbes showed an evident disposition to part company with "Bill," and at the outcome was found to be 8½ feet ahead of him; winning the race with perfect ease. The stakes were $100, a side. We should judge that at least $10,000 changed hands on the result of this race. Forbes is a fine built man, and runs like a reindeer. We did not learn the time made by Forbes, but it must have been inside of 5 seconds. Distance, 100 yards.

The Champion "Mug-Beater."—Tom Sayers, the noted English pugilist, writes as follows to Bell's Life in London:

"In answer to challenges that have appeared in your journal, I beg to say that I will fight any man living for £200 a side, and the championship, within six months from the present day, allowing time for those that are in England, and for those that are not, to get here."

One Shooting.—John Travis offers to shoot through his legs, in a stooping posture, with his back to the target, and his pistol upside down, against any other person, who may shoot in the ordinary way, for the sum of $5,000.

Sampson's Soliloquy.—"Well, I does feel mighty bad, and that's a fact. Ugh!" said a ragged, dirty unkempt specimen of the genus homo, as he stretched his limbs with a fearful yawn on the sunny side of a brick house on Jacific street. He looked as if he might be a "volunteer crop," raised from the seeds of dissipation, and not enough of it to pay for the harvesting. Like a prize beet, his nose protruded from the soil which enveloped his countenance, and his eyes looked like two red onions floating about in a basin of water. In fact, take him all in all, he was about as complete a specimen of humanity fallen in ruins as one would meet in a month's travel. "I do feel awful bad," he soliloquized, "I've learn tell of fellows what keeps sober all the time. How infernal bad they must feel! I can't see how they stand it! Now, here I am sober for the first time in six months, and it seems as if my feelin's would be the death of me! Talk to me of your sober fellers! why, they must be made of cast iron to stand the press! Nothin' human could live sober for a month, I know!" Here the old toper gazed around in search for some friendly place of shelter where he could obtain the wherewith to sustain existence. "If I don't get drunk, I shall die in six hours, certain!" With this he started off on a waddle like a penguin in a storm. The last we saw of him was, his rags fluttering around the nearest corner like the torn sail of a fishing boat in a gale of wind, a painful and visible warning to all men who will get sober.—Calif

"If we work upon marble it will perish; if we work upon brass, time will efface it; if we rear temples, they will crumble into dust; but if we work upon our immortal mind—if we imbue them with principles, with the just fear of God and of their fellow men, we engrave on those tablets something that will brighten to all eternity."

"PUT FLOWERS IN MY HAIR."

What a world of poetry there is in youth! poetry of which the little ones are unconscious, but which, to those of maturer age, is full of sweetness; loaded with recollections of early scenes in the spring time of life, when the world was bright and beautiful, before the summer sun had scorched the tender plant, or autumn's mellow sky witnessed its decay. The poetry of childhood is always touching to a man of right feelings; but it is still more touching when it is brought forth amid the deadly blight of disease or in the prospect of death. We were particularly impressed with this idea by a little incident which occurred in this city the other day. A beautiful girl of some ten years, who, for months had been wasting away with consumption, lay upon her death-bed. She was propped up with pillows, and, in her simple white dress, with two or three roses filled with fresh flowers on a table beside her, and surrounded by weeping relatives and friends, she appeared almost unearthly. Her face, as soft and white as wax, was illuminated with a sweet smile, and long hazel curls drooped about her shoulders. It was surely life—not death. One could not associate with so much of loveliness, the trickling moisture—the cleaving worms—the darkness of the grave. But she knew what others could not realize. She saw and heard when those beside her were blind and dumb. She seemed filled with a sense of happiness. For some time perfect silence reigned. At length, however, Rose suddenly started as from a dream, and feebly taking her mother's hand within her own, gazed steadfastly into her face, and said: "Mother, put flowers in my hair." After that she fell asleep.

"Put flowers in my hair!" How exquisite the expression! Her last thoughts were of flowers; of forms of imperishable beauty; of rare fragility; but which, On throbbing heart! perish but to bloom again. Perchance as she was passing away, she caught a glimpse of a far off garden, filled with perennials blossoms and cared for by a Father's hand.—S. F. Spirit of the Times.

Sublimity of the North.—The North is the region of Nature's sublimest and most mysterious phenomena.—the birth place of storms,—the iceberg, the great light of the Arctic. The fiercest strife related by history or tradition increased in ferocity as it approached the rigors of Iceland—the grimest-visaged war, the haughtiest chieftains, the most iron hearted valor have ever been found among the upper rocks garrisoned by Northmen. "The East was dedicated to Hope by the sentinel star whose light revealed the Heaven-born babe of Bethlehem; the West, with its soft, departing light, is the paradise of the poet, and the South the dreamy territory of palm trees and quiet rests. But the North, the ominous, storm-breeding North, is full of haughty severity, and sublime, forbidding mystery. Its hither seas are full of mariner's bones, its whirlpools traversed by broken ships, its forests peopled with untamable ferocity, its mountains are wrapt in the uncharitable mantle of eternal frost.—Trinity Journal.

Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters.—One wine-glass full, taken three times a day, before meals, will be a sure cure for Dyspepsia, will remove all flatulency, or heaviness from the stomach, keep you free from costiveness, assist digestion, give a good appetite, and impart a healthy tone to the whole system, and is a certain preventative of fever and ague. Those bitters are pleasant to the taste, and are a delightful beverage. ☞Dr. L. J. Czapkay.—We would direct the especial attention of Invalids to the perusal of Dr. L. J. Czapkay's advertisement, to be found in another column of this paper, to place the services of a learned and experienced Physician within their reach. So much ill has been inflicted upon the human family from the pernicious and ignorant practices of impirics, that it seems as if we were fulfilling a bounden duty to make known where judicious relief can be obtained. To those unfortunate enough to suffer from the effects of sexual or private diseases, or other ill treatment, we cheerfully commend Dr. L. J. Czapkay as a man of rare scientific and medical acquirements. Possessing all the requirements, from long experience and acknowledged skill, for the successful practice of his profession. Having made sexual complaints his especial study, like the celebrated Ricord of Paris, he is enabled to guarantee a speedy and permanent cure in all cases of private or chronic diseases, whether the effect of contagion, self abuse, or loss of virility, and in order that patients at a distance may avail themselves of his advice, free consultation by letter is open to them. The knowledge we have of his skill in many cases we have cured, of which were of long standing, leads us to place much faith in Dr. Cz'efficacy, and commend him to the confidence of those in ill health. d9

UDOLPHO WOLFE'S SCHNAPPS.

A medicinal drink, of eminently salutary qualities, manufactured by himself exclusively, at his factory at Schiedam, in Holland, and well known during the last twelve years throughout all the Atlantic and Western States.

It is made from the best barley that can be selected in Europe, with the essence of an aromatic Italian berry, of acknowledged and extraordinary medicinal properties. It has long since acquired a higher reputation, both in Europe and America, than any other diuretic beverage.

Analyzed, it is a perfectly pure Liquor, in its effects a mild and wholesome tonic. It is extensively used and approved by the medical faculty, the temperance people, heads of families, &c.

In Gravel, Gout, and Rheumatism, in obstructions of the Bladder and Kidneys, and in General Debility, its effects are prompt, decided, and invariably reliable; and it is not only a remedy for these maladies, but in all cases in which they are produced by drinking bad water, which is almost universally the cause of them, it acts as a sure preventive.

The Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps

is consequently in great demand by persons travelling, or about to settle in new parts of the country especially, as well as by many in every community, where it has become known, on account of its various other remedial properties.

In all cases of a Dropsical tendency, it is generally the only remedy required, when adopted in the early stage of the disease.

In dyspepsia maladies, when taken in proper quantities, as a diet drink, and especially at dinner, it is found, by uniform experience, to be eminently efficacious in the most obstinate cases, when even the best of the usual remedies have failed to afford more than temporary relief. In cases of Flatulency, it is an immediate and invariable specific, and it may be administered in the most delicate and protracted stages of pregnancy, even to YOUNG INFANTS. In all those paroxysms of griping pain in the stomach and bowels to which they are especially subject, as well as in the colic of grown persons.

Its judicious adoption in connection with the principal meals, or when a sense of exhaustion dictates its use, never fails to relieve the debility attending upon protracted chronic maladies, by invigorament and exhausted vital energy, by whatever cause induced. These are facts to which many of the most eminent medical men, both in England and the United States, have borne testimony, and which are corroborated by the highest written authorities.

Put up in quart and pint bottles, one dozen in a case, with my name on the bottles, cork, and fac-simile of my signature on the label.

For sale by all the respectable Druggists and Liquor dealers in California and Oregon.

Mariposa Gazette

MRS. PARTINGTON AND PATENT MEDICINES.—"I'm shore he's very kind," said Mrs. Partington, as she took out of its wrapper a box of Hallelujah Pills," accompanied with the request that she should take them for the sake of old friendship—the agent being an early acquaintance of hers. "He's very kind, but taking them is another thing, though they are good for all the ails that are impertinent to the flesh, double X inclusive. Oh! what manufacturers these medicine men are to the human family, to be sure. I remember a pictorial expectant once that brought up a whole family of children, and entirely cured a gentleman who had been troubled for a great while with a periodical depot. Depend upon it, sir," continued she addressing old Roger, "there's so much virtue in 'em that everybody will be made virtuous, and everybody be made over again new, and there'll be no excuse for dying at all." The old lady put the box of pills up on the top shelf out of Ike's way, lest he should take them by mistake as he often did the preserved damsons. "They are doubtless purgatory," sid she getting down out of the chair in which she had stood. "Worse than that, I dare say," said Roger, buttoning up his coat, "for I smelt sulphur in them." He went out, and she wondered what he meant.

HOW THE BOYS FOOLED THE OLD GENTLEMAN.—He was fat and on horseback. They made him believe that a creek he had just come to (it was in Alabama) was so deep his horse would have to swim it. The Colonel slowly divested himself of coat, boots, pantaloons and drawers. These he nicely tied up in his handkerchief, and hung them on the horn of his saddle. Then he remounted, and as he was a short, fat man, with a paunch of rather inordinate size, rather inadequate legs, a face like a withered apple, and a brown wig, there is no doubt he made an interesting picture as he bestrode his steed, with the breeze holding gentle dalliance with the extremity of his only garment. Slowly and cautiously the old gentleman took the creek. Half a length, and the water was not fetlock deep. Here the horse stopped to drink. A length and a half, and the stream was no deeper. Thirty feet further, and a decided shoaling. Here Col. D. reined too:

"There must," said he "be an awful deep channel between this and the bank—see how it runs. We'll dash through here."

A sharp lash made the horse spring the watery waste, and another carried the horse and rider to the opposite bank. The creek was nowhere more than a foot deep! A wild yell from the young 'uns announced their approbation of the sport as they galloped away with the Colonel after them, imprecating ferociously, but they got off and left him grumbling and dressing himself by the roadside.

☞"Och, Paddy! swate Paddy, if I was ye're daddy, I'd kill ye wid kisses intirely; it I was yer bruther, and likewise yer muther, I'd see that ye went to bed airly. To taste of yer breath, I wud starve me to death, and lay off my hoops altogether; to joost have a taste of yer arm on me waste, I'd larf at the manest of weathur. Dear Paddy be mine, me own swate valuntine—ye'll find me both gintle and civil; our life we will spind to an illegant ind, and care may go dance wid the divil."

☞THE Minnie rifle ball weighs an ounce and a half, projected by one-tenth that weight of powder. They have a range of ten or twelve hundred yards, directed by a movable hind sight on the gun which the marksman can adjust with great certainty.

THE GIRLS.—The girls, somebody says, think of Hymen, and can't help sighing. When their lovers forsake them, they can't help crying. They sit at the window, and can't help spying. They screw up their corsets, bring on consumption, and can't help dying—but that's a slander, partly.

☞"Missus Thompson, massa sen' me ober to borrow or beg a pound ob hogtallow; he say he got de old sow up in de pen, fatten 'em, he gwine to kill her day before yesterday, an' he come ober week 'fore last, and pay all you owe us."

THE YOUTH.—"Scratch the green rind of a sapling, or wantonly twist it in the soil, and the scarred and crooked oak will tell of thee for centuries to come." How forcibly does this beautiful figure teach the lesson of giving right instead of wrong tendencies to the young mind.

NEIGHBORS.—"Shon," saida Dutchman, "you may say what you please 'bout bad neighbors; I had de vorst neighbors as never vas. Mine pigs and mine hens come home mit der ears split, and todder day two of dem come home missing

This certificate was sent us by our agents at Patterson, N. Y., which is also certified to by several of the neighbors of Mr. Ballard.

Messrs. A. B. & D. SANDS: Gentlemen,—It gives me pleasure to send you the following statement in regard to my son. He took a severe cold, and after eight weeks of severe suffering the disease settled in his left leg and foot, which soon swelled to the utmost. The swelling was lanced by his physician, and discharged most profusely; after that no less than eleven ulcers formed on the leg and foot at one time. We had five different physicians, but none relieved him much; and the last winter found him so emaciated and low that he was unable to leave his bed, suffering the most excruciating pain. During this time the bone had become so much affected, that piece after piece came out, of which he has now more than twenty-five preserved in a bottle, varying from one-half to one and a half inches in length. We had given up all hopes of his recovery; but at this time we were induced to try your Sarsaparilla, and with its use his health and appetite began immediately to improve, and so rapid was the change that less than a dozen bottles effected a perfect cure.

With gratitude, I remain truly yours,

DARIUS BALLARD.

Important to All Concerned!

Furniture and Bedding

MANUFACTORY & STORE.

I WISH TO CALL THE ATTENTION OF THE PUBLIC TO THE FOLLOWING:

Having been taught by experience and loss, that it will be more prudent to work at CHEAPER rates, and get paid for my work, than to charge higher prices and thus make honest customers pay for those that don't. I have came to the conclusion that in future I SHALL DO NO MORE WORK ON A CREDIT. No exception will be made to this rule; friends as well as strangers are expected to pay cash or its equivalent on delivery.

☞On the other hand, I am willing to do the same when purchasing.

Those that are indebted to me now, will assist me considerably in paying my old debts, by settling theirs.

In addition to the above, I would state that I am able and prepared to do any kind of work that can be made of wood, from the roughest Carpenter's work to the most Artificial work, including TURNING, CARVING, PAINTING, PAPER HANGING and GLAZING.

A limited assortment of Furniture constantly kept on hand, which will be sold hereafter at reduced prices.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S

GRAND MEDICAL & SURGICAL INSTITUTE

SACRAMENTO STREET, BELOW MONTGOMERY,

Opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office, San Francisco.

Established in 1854, for the Permanent Cure of all Private and Chronic Diseases, and the suppression of quackery.

Dr. L. J. CZAPKAY, late in the Hungarian Revolutionary War, Chief Physician to the 20th Regiment of Honveds, Chief Surgeon to the Military Hospital of Pesth, Hungary, and late Lecturer on diseases of Urinary Organs and Diseases of Women and Children returns his sincere thanks to his numerous patients for their patronage, and would take this opportunity to remind them that he continues to consult at his institute for the cure of all forms of Private Diseases—such as syphilis, gonorrhœa, nocturnal emissions, and all the consequences of self abuse. In the first stages of syphilitic or gonorhœal diseases, he guarantees a cure in a few days, without inconvenience to the patient or hindrance to his business. When a patient, by neglect or improper treatment, has developed the symptoms of secondary syphilis, such as bubos, or painful swellings of the groins, or ulcers in the throat or nose, which if not checked, destroy the soft parts and cause the bones to mortify, separate and come away, leaving the sufferer heideous to behold; or when blotches and pimples break out upon the skin, or when he has painful swellings upon the bones, or when his sosstitution is injured so as to predispose to consumption or constitutional diseases the Doctor guarantees a cure or asks no compensation.

In Rheumatism, chronic or acute, in Dysentery or Diarrhœa, he has safe and effectual remedies. For the treatment of the consequences of self abuse, such as nocturnal emissions, nervousness, timidity, headache, pains in the back and limbs, with general weakness, loss of appetite, loss of memory, injury to the sight, restlessness, confusion of ideas, dislike for society, and a feeling of weariness of life, with the nervous system so exciteable that slight noises shock or startle the patient, making his existence miserable. For the above maladies the Doctor will guarantee a cure or ask no compensation. He can be consulted free of charge, and invites all to call, as it will cost them nothing, and may be much to their advantage.

A Tribute to Merited Worth.

☞A TESTIMONIAL, RICHLY MERITED.—The ingratitude of man to his fellow man is so often met with in life, that testimonials, prompted by the finer feelings of the heart, are oasis in the life of those who sacrifice their best days in philanthropic devotion to the alleviation of the ills of frail mortality. Empiricism floods the columns of our press with fraudulent and fictitious letters; singing peans to the worth of their own egotistical charlatanism. Below we append a letter from a worthy man, who, a brief period since, seemed destined to "shuffle off this mortal coil," who looked forward to his dissolution with that pleasure which only those weighed down by the heavy hand of disease can. Contrary to hope, the ability of a skillful physician has restored him to his former health. Relieved from his terrible situation, and impelled by gratitude, he makes known his case and remedial agent, and his statement is authenticated by a Notary Public. The demands of society imperiously command its publicity, and it is given more to warn the unwary than to sound the praises of a physician of whom scores of like cases can be cited:

CERTIFICATE.

The undersigned, desirous of acquainting those who may be unfortunate enough to be similarly afflicted, where a permanent relief of their sufferings may be obtained, feels it his duty to thus publicly express his most sincere gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay for the permanent recovery of his health. Borne down by the distressing symptoms incident to the vicious practice of uncontrollable passion in youth; depressed in body and mind; unable to perform even the most trifling duty imposed upon the daily avocations of life, I sought the advice of many physicians, who at first regarded my disease of trifling importance—but alas! after a few weeks, and in several instances months, of their treatment, I found to my unutterable horror, that instead of relief, the symptoms became more alarming in their torture; and being told by one that my disease being principally confined to the brain, medicines would be of little consequence. I despaired of ever regaining my health, strength and energy; and as a last resort and with but a faint hope, called upon Dr. Czapkay, who after examining my case, prescribed some medicine which almost instantly relieved me of the dull pain and dizziness in my head. Encouraged by this result, I resolved to place myself immediately under his care, and by a strict obedience to all his directions and advice, my head became clear, my ideas collected; the constant pain in my back and groins; the weakness of my limbs; the nervous reaction of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement; the misanthropy and evil forebodings; the self-distrust and want of confidence in others; the incapability to study, and want of resolution; the frightful, exciting, and at times pleasurable dreams at night, followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared; and in fact, in two months after having consulted the Doctor, I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand.

With a view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured, by my own experience, that under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected. B. F. FILMORE.

State of California, County of San Francisco.—Subscriped and sworn before me, this 17th day of April, 1856. (Signed) JOHN MIDDLETON, [L. S.]

Notary Public.

A CARD.—Prompted by an honest desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public, a case which deserves a high commendation, not only as an act of scientific skill, but that of humanity also. About two years ago, I suddenly and from some cause unknown to me, was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which, owing to my inability to meet the expense consequent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the failures which I met with on attempting it, soon became such (as I was then led to believe) as to defy the skill of a physician. I was frequently, while in pursuit of my calling, thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning, and although insensible to the agonies, I yet despised the miseries of my life, and soon learned to look upon those who would render me assistance or shelter me from danger as enemies who sought to prolong the misery of my existence. While in this state, and having previous to my affliction, tasted the sweets of life, I once more was induced to attempt seeking aid of a physician, and by recommendation, called upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him my circumstances, and my inability to reward him for all his services, regardless of which, however, he at once undertook the case, and with the blessing of God I was once more restored to perfect health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present, and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I consider it due to myself and to all afflicted, to make the case public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

GREAT BLESSING TO MANKIND!—Innocent but potent! Dr. L. J. Czapkay's Prophilacticum, (self-disinfecting agent,) a sure preventive against gonorrhœal and syphilitic diseases, and an unsurpassed remedy for venereal, scrofulous, gangrenous and cancerous ulcers, fœtid discharges from the vagina, uterus and urethra, and all cutaneous eruptions and diseases. As innoculation is a preventive against small-pox, so is Dr. L. J. Czapkay's Prophilacticum a preventive against syphilitic and gonorrhœal diseases. Although harmless in itself, it possesses the power of chemically destroying the syphilitic virus, and thereby saving thousands from being infected by the most loathsome of all diseases. Let no young man who appreciates health be without Dr. Czapkay's Prophilacticum. It is in very convenient packages, and will be found convenient to use, being used as a soap. Price $5.
